

Protecting the Hearts of Southern Pima County

As the first responder in a cardiac emergency, you make crucial decisions that impact the welfare of your patients. Where is the closest healthcare facility? Who can provide the most appropriate care? What steps can you take to give your patient the best positive outcome?

“University Physicians Hospital is now an outstanding option for your cardiac emergencies any time, day or night.”

The treatment of cardiac patients has become a priority in our already advanced emergency department. We have built a brand new cath lab with state-of-the-art diagnostic and treatment equipment and put together a skilled, dedicated emergency cardiac team to provide exceptional care for heart patients. And our location makes University Physicians Hospital the closest appropriate facility for much of eastern and southern Tucson as well as communities and rural areas in Southern Pima County.

Time is Muscle

Our procedure is optimized to achieve the 90 minute door-to-balloon standard in virtually every case.

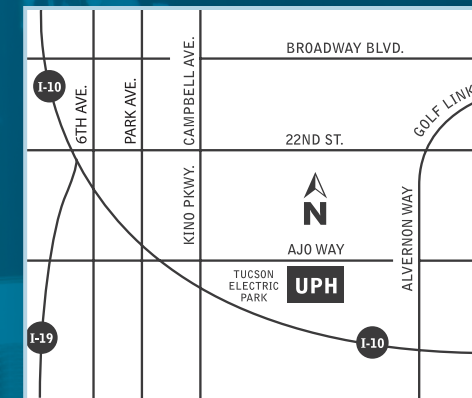

The moment you alert us, our team begins activating the cath lab. We have a dedicated communications line to receive your EKG from the field and speed the course of treatment. Our staff is fully prepared and waiting to receive and treat your patient immediately.

We understand that you, as the first responder, are our best source of information and work with you as a team member to rapidly give your patient the best possible care.
